

Draw a picture of you
and an imaginary friend.

They can look however you see them in your imagination

– they might even be an animal or a creature nobody has seen before!

Think about what activity or game you would like to do with them, and draw that too.

In Imaginary Fred, Sam has a long list of things he loves doing with Imaginary Fred, like acting out plays, playing instruments and planning comic books. They call themselves the Dramatic Duo.

What would YOU like to do with an imaginary friend? Write a list of your favourite activities that you'd like a friend to share in. What would you call yourselves?
